QUARREL-A COWARD MURDERS AN EDITOR, AND IS MIMSELF LYNCHED BY OUTBAGED CIT-WARRENTON, GA., March 13 .- The excitement growing out of the murder yesterday

TWO DREADFUL MURBERS FROM ONE POLITICAL

morning, of Mr. Wallace, editor of the Clipper newspaper of this place, culminated in another terrible tragedy last night. The particulars of the whole affair are as follows: There had previously been some difficulty count of political sentiments, and more recently Dr. D., who is a Mason, and is connected with the Masonic Lodge at Warrenton, voted against Wallace becoming a member. To this implied insult, Mr. Wallace replied through his paper, in a long and scathing abuse of Dr. Darden, and on yesterday morning, while walking quietly through the streets of Warrenton, he was shot from a window with a double barreled gun in the hands of Ir. Darden, taking off the entire top of his head, and killing him instantly. The closing paragraph of the card published by Mr. Wallace, referred to above, is as follows:

"Many of our best citizens who have concived a faverable opinion of Masonry, held the masslves aloof on account of this individual membership, knowing his cowardly disposition, and fearing him as a coward. In conclusion, I would say, that if any Mason who voted to the occasion referred to will vindicate Daden, I will make ample reparation; but if no mason feels it his duty to give Darden justice other than this, then I again brand him as a liar and villain. I can be found at myoffice at any time, and if the Boctor sees profer to practice on me, I am his patient, but not without fear that he will administer poisonor attempt a surgical operation

After the shooting of Wallace, the citizens of Warrenton became so incensed at the atrocious manner in which it was done, that Darden, by the advice of a few friends, and desiring to preserve his life, save himself up to the sheriff of the county, who promptly placed him in jail, and locking it up made his way to Augusta-the sheriff admitting him in jail armed. At intervals, and nearly all through the day, crowds were seen on the street corners discussing the killing. Things thus progressed until night, when a crewd of men. numbering some twenty-five or thirty, assembled and proceeded to the jail, demanding from Darden that he should give himself up to them. He refused, and the crowd piled a lot of rubbish against the door and under the jail, and attempted to smoke him out. Darden then cried out that he would give up his pistol and vield to their wishes; but when they came near, the smoke having gradually left the house, he again refused. The crowd then became more inceused, and made another applieation of rubbish to the house, and again smoked him. This time the smoke and heat became so intense that he was heard to feebly ask to be let out. The crowd broke open the jail and took from it their victim. They then conducted him to his office, and allowed him to write a letter and make his will. He was natified that his time was up, and they gave him a few moments to make a last appeal to God, which being done, they escorted him out to the public streets and there shot him until every spark of life left his body, piercing him with no less than twenty-five balls. Thus ended another fearful tragedy.

The speeches were generally of a moderate tone, gently remonstrating with the senators and representative against the proposed or rumored manner of distribution of Federal offices in South Carolina. Senator Leslie offered the following resolutions, which were declared unanimously adopted:

Whereas, On the 3d day of November, 1868, the American people elected General U. S. pres. , was apparently the most indignant person in attendance. Sitting at one of the tables, as each speaker arose Tim. would ejactables, as each speaker arose Tim. would ejaculate, "Here goes more indignation." Tim. claims that the "indignante" have been fooled, and that the three hundred and twenty-four Federal offices to be given out in South Carolina have not yet been apportioned. He says he speaks ex calkedra in reference to the proposed distribution, and names some of the leading ones as follows; Collector of the Port, Reuben Tomkinson; Pestmaster of Charleston, John B. Deunis; Major L. Jehnson, Assessor of Internal Revenue; Major D. T. Corbin, United States District Attorney; J. P. M. Epping, United State: Marshal; G. W. Clark, temporarily Collector of Internal Revenue; John D. States District Attorney; J. P. M. Epping, United State: Marshal; G. W. Clark, temporarily Collector of Internal Revenue; John D. McLaughlin, Boarding Master of the Port of Chacleston; Dr. A. G. Mackey, United States Consul to Liverpool; B. O. Duncen, Consul to Frankfort; C. M. Wilder, Postmaster at Columbia.

Besides the above, Tim. says a large number of special agents of the Postoffice Department, three on the Northeastern Railroad, eight on the South Carolins Railroad, two on the Savannah and Charleston Railroad, and so on, are to be appointed; also, thirty-two census takers, or one for each county; a supervisor of internal revenue for the State, with the power of appointing assistants, deputy collectors and assessors.

The above are only a small postion of the appeinting assistants, deputy collectors and assessors.

The above are only a small portion of the offices which Tim. announces as ready to be given out and distributed among the indignant brotherhood. He also reports that Mr. Trott will be called to Washington to take charge of a department there, having been postmaster for General Grant at Vicksburg and other places during the war.

The varieus beards of County Commissioners are sending in their reports in reference to the new formation and division of the county report that county divided into sixteen townships; the Commissioners of Horry County report three townships.

The Board of Equalization of taxable pre-perty for Marlboro County has been in session at Bennettsville fer several days. The Bennettsville Journal says: "Since the last term of our court, crime seems to be on the decrease, as but two or three parties have been ledged in jail. This is very desirable for the reason that our criminal docket will not consume the term of the court at its next sit-ting to the exclusion of important civil busi-ness. We hear of but little stealing anywhere in the county."

The Journal also has the following: "Our people are using guano extensively the present year. Some are also testing the manipulated year. Some are also testing the manipulated fartilizer. We very much fear it will not prove remunerative, as there is a disposition in this section to plant too much cotton, and if it should decline considerably in price the disastrous results of year before last will be experienced. We admonish our people in time, and earnestly advise them to be sure and make plenty of corn."

Chesterfield. The Cheraw Democrat of Friday says: "Last Saturday while all hands we say district the steam saw and grass mile of Capital Craig, about two miles from town, took fire and was not only a heavy loss to Captain Craig, but a serious one to the whole community."

The same paper has the following: "Captain John Evans exhibited to us, yesterday some very fine specimens of ore, taken from his land, called the Kirkly mine, in the upper part of this district. Several of the particles of rock sometimes as much as five donars. It she shaft he has recently sunk was worked by machinery, under skiliful management, it would, no doubt, yield an abundance of gold. These specimens have been examined by persons acquainted with minerals, and pronounced quite superior."

"Our planters in this section are rapidly get. A correspondent of the Barnwair Sentinei writing from Bamberg on the 7th instant, says: "Our planters in this section are rapidly getting their lands ready for planting, and judging by the amount of fertilizers which I see brought up and lying upon the platform, I should say that they intend putting in a large amount of cotton this season, and I am fearful that our country friends are again making the same mistake which they always have done whenever cotton ruled at anything like remunerative rates. Will our planter friends never learn wisdom, never learn that one bale of cotton which brings $100 is really worth more to them than two bales which bring only the same amount? for with one bale there is almost a certainty, plenty of corn in the crib, while with the two it is problematical. I hear no complaint of want of labor; the negroes in this section have gone to work with a will; most of them, or many at least, having made money on last year's labor, are encouraged to further effort."

Messrs F. A. Conner, Samuel B. Jones, B. Z. Herndon, F. F. Gary, W. A. Moore, N. Sims, P. W. Conner, James W. Tompkins, S. Wait, W. Z. McGnee, John W. Tompkins and F. M. Anderson.

The Intelligencer suggests to the Anderson merchants and business men to secure banking facilities in that town by the establishment of a branch of the South Carolina Loan and Trust Company, recently organized in Charleston. It is only necessary that a comparatively small sum should be subscribed to the capital stock of said company to obtain an agency at that place.

The Intelligencer of Thursday says: "The testimony on the part of Hon. J. P. Reed, the respondent, was taken before W. W. Humphreys, Esq., Judge of Probate, on Thursday and Friday last. The evidence was conclusive and overwhelming in sustaining the answer of Mf. Reed, so far as Anderson County is concerned, and giving a positive and unequivocal denial to the allegations made by the contestant. No one appeared in behalf of Hoge, who is certainly eschewed by the leading colored men in this county, and we are inclined to think that the white Hudicals are ashamed of his unscrippious charges against our people." this unscrupplous charges against our people."
The Intelligencer also has the fellowing: "It is a singular soundence that we have to announce this morning tree death of three old officers of this county, all of whom died after being illness. On Thursday morning last, in this village, Mr. Ezekiel George, aged 55 years, departed this life, having been sick only a Major James Gilmer died suddenly at his residence near Roberts' Church, on Thursday night last. He was complaining for scarcely half an hour before his death. Major Gilmer was one of our most highly respected citizens, and at one time represented this district in the Legislature. He was 76 years of age. AST A MALARIOUS MONTH, MARCH. that gives us a new President, is a'so the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders. Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alternation of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses," is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmespheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellant power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BIT-TERS. If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be evaded. Nay, the treuble will be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route, and every respectable druggist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grecery without sugar, as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with r gard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new mirale, (the old cettlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and petent vegetable tonic ever manufacbillousness, and missmatic fevers; that it prevents as well as cures, these complaints and their com plications; that it is not "bad to take," and is abso lutely harmless. 6 D40 March 18
